

Calvin Coolidge and the Seat of Power

By Stephen Bolles

"What manner of man is the president? How did the president impress you? What is Coolidge like?" These and others along the same lines are questions asked of the writer since returning. It may be said at once that it is not an easy thing to answer them. To know a man, the trifling moment that one may talk to the president, is not important a personage to him, and the still fewer moments accorded by so busy and restricted a man as the president to the man who has no command upon his time or his attention, gives only the most superficial information. One is placed in the position of the foreign visitor who is asked as he comes within sight of the Statue of Liberty how he likes America.

You are first struck by the fact that President Coolidge has plenty of it. You could think of Roosevelt slapping a man, whose face was ambushed with a shock of whiskers, and hauled from the plain on the back, and shouting, "Old boss, I'm glad to see you." But that from Coolidge could never, never be possible. It would be more possible, however, from Mr. Coolidge that the self-conscious Mr. Wilson. The Coolidge greeting is pleasant, his voice is reassuring, his manner courteous to a degree. He has a good warm grip in his hand. His face is not florid, not quite pale, and the freckles which the movies show are not so pronounced. His hair is graying and thinning at the front, which the comedy stage portrays the New England farmer or the novelist writes into his pages. That voice is not high pitched, it is not the voice of a valet, it is the voice of a man, and it is the voice of a man who is not only a man, but a man of a higher key. It carries well. It is capable of communicating deep feeling as well as of conveying a message during the closing paragraphs. The president is well-groomed. His clothes fit him. It was said that in the days when Coolidge was in the great economy he had few suits. But he is that sort of person who can wear clothes well. Others might (Continued on Page 2)

CLEVELAND SELECTED FOR JUNE 10

FIRST UNMARRIED WOMAN ELECTED TO BRITISH HOUSE

Mrs. Susan Lawrence.

While three of her sisters had been elected to the British parliament before, the recent election of Mrs. Susan Lawrence is the first single woman to win a seat in the house. She was elected on the Labor ticket from the district of East Ham, north London. She is a member of the labor party's executive board and wealthy. There will be nine women in the new parliament, returns indicate.

NO COMPROMISE WITH ANY PARTY BALDWIN SLOGAN

London.—The executive board of the labor party issued a communique this afternoon saying it had decided in the event of labor being invited to form a government, that the parliamentary party should immediately accept the full responsibility of the government of the country without compromising itself with any form of coalition.

McCANN TRIAL AT HAYWARD

Hayward, Calif.—President Coolidge's message to congress was labeled "a counsel of dormancy" and his opposition to a bonus for ex-service men characterized as a summary dismissal of "just claims for consideration." In an address by William Gibbs McAdoo before the democratic luncheon club and Women's Democratic league here today, the former director-general of railroads declared the president's proposal for a voluntary consolidation of these systems of transportation as "a seven year itch for reduced freight and passenger rates, with no assurance of relief at the end of the trial," telling his hearers that "what is needed is not seven years of delay, but action."

CAPT. HOBSON IN WILD NIGHT ON BURNING HILLS

Los Angeles.—Captain Richmond Hobson, Spanish-American war hero, and prohibition crusader were safe at home today after an experience which left him adventure in Santiago bay, like his adventure with publicity but much more serious. A wind storm and brush fire set the stage on which Captain Hobson unwittingly played the role of misadventure. He had failed to return from a hiking trip when expected. After the three men were well out of reach of telephone the missing boys came home. Then Major Hobson became separated from his two companions, and when he could not find them, he became another search of the hills. High winds and a dangerous brush fire lent substance to the rumor that all was not well with Captain Hobson and his companions, but reports were proved unfounded when the two men returned to their homes not knowing that a search had been started for them.

UNITED STATES TO RENDER OFFICIAL AID TO EUROPE

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE ANNOUNCES WE WILL ACT ON REPARATIONS.

PARIS IS PLEASED

Step Taken Comes as Surprise But Personnel of Experts Secret.

Washington.—Only a few formalities remain to be performed before American official aid becomes available to the European allies in their new effort toward a reparation settlement.

The American government, having given its consent, the allied governments, acting through the reparation commission, are expected to send to the American experts to sit on the two committees that are to inquire into the state of German finances and related questions. The general impression here is that consummation of the plan is only a matter of days.

Personal Not Known. American officials are unwilling to discuss the probable personnel of the American expert group, since the selection is to be made abroad and the invitations extended individually. It is apparent, however, that the personnel question is one that is not escaping attention here, and there is an expectation in some official quarters that Charles G. Dawes of Chicago, former director of the budget, will be one of the American group.

The decision of the administration to favor the speedy dispatch of the committees, formally announced yesterday from the White House, is regarded by President Coolidge as one of the most important steps in the American aid to Europe.

SHARON RESIDENT IS 85 YEARS OLD

Mrs. Rachel Spore Knew Governor Randall Who Lived at Shopiere.

Sharon.—A resident of Sharon three score years and three, Mrs. Rachel Spore celebrated her 85th birthday at her home here today. Mrs. Spore is probably the oldest resident of Sharon in length of time here. She was born at Glen, New York, in 1838 and came to Big Lake, Minn., in 1855. She was married to David Spore, Armenia, Juneau county, in 1855. They then moved to Sharon, Minn., where she lived for 24 years. Her husband, a Sharon farmer, died in 1907, and a sister, Mrs. Simeon Benton Spore, died at Minneapolis in 1918. Mrs. Spore's father, John Spore, was a farmer at Big Lake, N. Y., in 1815, five months before the battle of Waterloo. He fell dead of heart disease at Sharon. Mrs. Spore has vivid recollections of her childhood. As a child she walked with her sister to Walworth, carrying a wooden pail full of eggs and a half yard of calico, which was then extremely high, as eggs were amazingly high in price. She was a great admirer of Governor Randall, beloved governor of Wisconsin in the Civil war, when she lived at Shopiere.

McADOO DOES NOT LIKE MESSAGE

Los Angeles, Cal.—President Coolidge's message to congress was labeled "a counsel of dormancy" and his opposition to a bonus for ex-service men characterized as a summary dismissal of "just claims for consideration."

In an address by William Gibbs McAdoo before the democratic luncheon club and Women's Democratic league here today, the former director-general of railroads declared the president's proposal for a voluntary consolidation of these systems of transportation as "a seven year itch for reduced freight and passenger rates, with no assurance of relief at the end of the trial," telling his hearers that "what is needed is not seven years of delay, but action."

WOMEN'S HOURS NOT TO CHANGE

State Industrial Commission Refuses to Revise the Regulations.

Madison.—Applications of numerous employers throughout the state for revision of regulations of working hours for women so as to permit a basis of 10 hours employment on five days a week and for a schedule of 10 hours on Saturdays, were denied by the state industrial commission today. The order effects women workers throughout the state. The employers did not ask that more than 50 hours per week employment be permitted.

The request for permission to work 10 hours on Saturday came from mercantile establishments and are based on the ground that long established custom requires that stores be kept open longer on Saturday. It is argued that Saturday is the busiest day of the week. It therefore, does not seem consistent with the welfare of women workers to permit them to be employed longer hours on the hardest day of the week.

The commission concluded that the evidence submitted to it at a recent hearing, not sufficient to warrant granting the proposed changes in regulations.

KLAN KILLER ON TRIAL, WOMAN ALSO INDICTED

ALIENISTS HAVE TOMPKINS CASE UNDER INQUIRY

Milwaukee.—A coroner's jury, empaneled in Ozaukee county to determine the cause of Mrs. Ora Belle Tompkins' death, returned a verdict late yesterday, finding that death came at the hands of E. Ray Tompkins, her husband.

The verdict came after an examination of the spot at Lion's Den where the body was found Saturday morning, and hearing the evidence collected by the Milwaukee district attorney including a copy of the confession made by Tompkins, that he strangled his wife into unconsciousness, and then severed her head, burning it in the furnace, and taking the body to the place where the crime was committed.

The ashes of Mrs. Tompkins will be buried at Bloomington, Ill., today, beside the grave of her first husband.

Five alienists, appointed by the court yesterday to inquire into Tompkins' sanity, began their work today, and announced it would take more than a week to complete the observations necessary to arrive at a conclusion.

Tompkins placed himself entirely in the hands of George Shaughnessy, district attorney in a letter received by the district attorney this morning.

Tompkins urged the district attorney to let him from becoming insane, as the result of his present insanity, and announced that he would be of aid to his family, especially his two children, Marjory, 10 years old, and Robert, 7 years old.

He declared that he had never known his wife until her diary came into his possession, he inquired, "why did not the diary come into my hands instead of the letter?"

PARISHIONERS HAVE FAITH IN PASTOR

Beloit.—A disorderly conduct in Chicago, where he was fined $25, Tuesday, will be asked of the Rev. Karl Berg, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church of Beloit, when he returns to his home here Wednesday afternoon. Berg, chairman of the official church board, said Wednesday that he did not expect that any action would be taken in his case.

He is highly regarded in Beloit and where he lives, and has made a large number of friends during his two months here. Mr. Ludtke indicated that the feeling here among Berg's parishioners was that "somebody had put over on him."

"We have done nothing yet," said Mr. Ludtke. "We will do nothing until we learn more upon his return to his home."

The same steadfast faith in her husband's integrity was expressed by Mrs. Berg, who was shocked by the press reports.

Mr. McAbee, in whose company Mr. Berg was said by police to have been arrested, was sentenced to 90 days in the house of correction, along with his wife, who is being held in their admission they are drug addicts.

T. Stueker of Napa county.

Reservations had been made on the Western Pacific train which connects with the 9:20 a. m. boat from San Francisco.

District Attorney Robert E. Kennedy of Douglas county, who accompanied the Wisconsin sheriff here, did not return with the party. He left yesterday for a visit to relatives in the state of Washington.

The Sailstad party made no announcement of the route it will take after leaving San Francisco. Sheriff Hagreen said, however, that they will lose as little time as possible in getting to Superior, where Sailstad and possibly Miss Anderson will be placed on trial on a charge of arson.

On account of the fact that she is suffering from incipient tuberculosis, Miss Anderson will be taken to Superior in a Pullman compartment under guard of Mrs. Hagreen.

District Attorney Robert E. Kennedy of Superior prophesied last night that neither woman will be extended both to Sailstad and Miss Anderson.

The district attorney gave Sailstad a letter which he said he had brought from the prisoner's mother. The letter read: "My Dear Son: Glad you are living. Be brave and we will do everything for you. Love from mother and all."

School Children Asked to Aid in 'Mail Early' Drive

An appeal has been made to the school children by Postmaster J. J. Cunningham, to assist in handling Christmas mail. The slogan of the department is "Shop Now—Mail Now." An attempt is being made to have school teachers take the matter up with school children, which is thought to be one of most effective ways of spreading information. It is urged that the following rules be followed: Shop now and mail now; wrap all parcels with heavy paper and tie securely with string; write addresses plainly with ink, giving street and number and rural route; put name of sender and address in the upper left hand corner; valuable parcels should be insured at the rate of 3 cents for $5, 5 cents to $25 and 10c to $50 and 25c to $100; letters and cards should be kept separate and a rubber band put around each and they should be dropped in separate boxes; mail going a distance should be mailed at once and for Wisconsin and adjoining states not later than next Monday. Foreign mail has nearly all gone.

Parcels may be marked, "Do not open until Christmas." School children are assisting in the work at Atlanta, Ga., according to the talk by the postmaster of that city, which was received here by radio on Monday night. It is also planned to secure other publicity here.

BRIEFS BY WIRE

London—The Daily Mail's correspondent understands Mrs. Asquith has written Premier Baldwin offering "any help Mr. Baldwin may consider in the best interests of the country." Washington—Senate investigation of the federal farm loan board was forecast by several senators. Manila—The Hapsburgs were preparing to depart for Hong Kong in connection with the situation at Canton, where Sun Yat Sen recently threatened to seize the customs house. Five American destroyers have already sailed for Hong Kong to be protected from the public, that he would see few persons, and then only on important official matters and be freed from the importunities of those who had no real business with the chief executive of the nation. But it seems that this was planned without consulting Mr. Coolidge, for the schedule of the day's work in the executive offices is a severe one—more severe than even it is an euphemism to say that the president directs the government from the White House. Once that was true, the president had his office within the residence and there, surrounded by the evidences of bygone hospitality and memories of daily Adams and other business, we have felt that the president kept a sort of open house for the people of the United States; that here in the midst of rich and magnificent appointments he determined the destiny of the nation as its executive officer. But that is far from the fact. The real office of the president is a goodly block removed from the White House though connected with it by corridors and offices. It is a business office. It is not as gorgeous as the office of our governors at Madison. In the outer rooms the doorkeepers halt the visitor. Many are turned away. Campbell Hascam Slem, the executive secretary, has the second inner office. Here waiting congressmen, senators, officials and visitors, may gather after passing the ordeal of the gate, and wait the turn to see the president. There is a rigid schedule for the executive. He has every minute filled. Most of the callers have arranged for this long beforehand. A senator is scheduled five minutes, there two or three. When one takes a minutes the schedule is smashed.

Finally the signal is given and the door between Mr. Slem's office and that of the president is opened and the visitor is admitted. The work-shop of the president is large and simply furnished. His desk is big enough. There is nothing to distinguish it, much in detail from have a better tailor and look poorly dressed beside the president in a suit of store clothes. He is not a large man, has none of the commanding bulk and breadth of shoulders of his predecessor. But he is not small—if he is not great in stature he gives you no reflex that he is undersized. And he carries the impression that he knows what he wants, or if he does not, that he would ask enough questions to find out. He was a good lawyer before he entered politics and one would feel that his advice on a legal question would have no element of guesswork. Also that he would tell the truth on matters which might hurt the client's feelings.

I would say that the president is a man who would inspire confidence. He is no novice in politics. There is no state in the Union, neither barring Ohio nor Wisconsin, where politics is so indelible to the soil as in Massachusetts. From town meeting to county caucus and state primary, from a small town mayor to state senate and governor, he has gone the gamut. He is said to be a silent, uncommunicative, unassuming, yet he must have made friends to have been promoted from one position to another, each time going higher in public preference. Therefore it may be said that the element of confidence in his strict integrity, honesty and sincerity, has appealed to his friends and neighbors in his home section and that this same confidence spread to his state when he was a candidate for the office of governor. It is said he is not a person given to argument but he was a good lawyer, where argument is a necessary, either spoken or written into briefs.

When President Harding died it was said that he had been killed by a too great willingness to see everybody and did too much work. So we were told that Mr. Coolidge was to be protected from the public, that he would see few persons, and then only on important official matters and be freed from the importunities of those who had no real business with the chief executive of the nation. But it seems that this was planned without consulting Mr. Coolidge, for the schedule of the day's work in the executive offices is a severe one—more severe than even it is an euphemism to say that the president directs the government from the White House. Once that was true, the president had his office within the residence and there, surrounded by the evidences of bygone hospitality and memories of daily Adams and other business, we have felt that the president kept a sort of open house for the people of the United States; that here in the midst of rich and magnificent appointments he determined the destiny of the nation as its executive officer. But that is far from the fact. The real office of the president is a goodly block removed from the White House though connected with it by corridors and offices. It is a business office. It is not as gorgeous as the office of our governors at Madison. In the outer rooms the doorkeepers halt the visitor. Many are turned away. Campbell Hascam Slem, the executive secretary, has the second inner office. Here waiting congressmen, senators, officials and visitors, may gather after passing the ordeal of the gate, and wait the turn to see the president. There is a rigid schedule for the executive. He has every minute filled. Most of the callers have arranged for this long beforehand. A senator is scheduled five minutes, there two or three. When one takes a minutes the schedule is smashed.

This youth sitting at the desk, heavy desk, representing in itself the cost of furniture enough for the Coolidges to begin housekeeping, was the embodiment of the spirit and typical of the hope of America. Increase the Nourishment in Soup

SOUPS are delicious! They form a zestful appetizer for the courses to follow. But soup, because of its high percentage of water, is low in the essential food elements.

But, HOLSUM bread enables you to add greatly to the food-value of soups. By the use of croutons (small cubes of toasted bread) served in ample quantities, the highly necessary food elements found in toasted HOLSUM are added, making a most appetizing and nourishing dish.

Croutons, made from HOLSUM bread, should be a part of the diet in cases of illness, and should be plentiful whenever soup is served on the table.

But, remember, "There's a difference in bread." Always ask for HOLSUM by name.

This is the old Fred Winters farm. The Sunday school class of Mrs. T. W. Morrison held a party at her home Tuesday night, as a result of an attendance contest the past month. Owing to the absence of one girl that marked the perfect attendance, the girls gave a chicken supper to the boys and later played games.

Crusade day is to be observed by the W. C. T. U. Friday afternoon, Dec. 14, at the home of Mrs. Chester Nott. Mrs. Josephine Shiff, the president, is to discuss "The Crusade Torch—Are We Having It On?" Plans for the jubilee year's work will be talked over. Miss Phoebe Coon, county president, will be present and speak on the work.

The bazaar and chicken pie supper given Wednesday afternoon and evening in the basement of the new Methodist church will close the bazaar season in Elkhorn.

The Plymouth Guild will meet Thursday from 7 to 9 p. m. with Althea Bell, Congregational parsonage.

Frank Helton went to Elkhorn, Ind., Monday to attend a convention of the Manufacturers' association to be held this week.

SAYS STATE CAN BE

PROUD OF HISTORY

"Romance of Wisconsin" Talk by Doudna of Great Interest.

Weaving an interesting account of the Indian legends and lore along with historical facts, E. G. Doudna, Madison, gave a pleasing address on "The Romance of Wisconsin's History" at the Twilight club meeting Tuesday night in the Janesville Y. M. C. A.

The attention advanced was that Wisconsin has a history that people, from adults to school children, should know more about and take pride in. Instances were pointed out that Wisconsin's pioneer development has as much to do with the progress and population of the great middle west as any other state and the Badger state has contributed liberally in the sciences and art of the United States.

When John Neill, an agent of Champlain came to Wisconsin, landing at the present location of Green Bay, it was only 14 years after the white men were in the colonial states—the Atlantic coast.

Especially interesting were the tales of the mighty Indian warriors, the White-Fisher, Blackhawk and others, playing a prominent part in the state's history.

Attracted by Furs.

The first explorers came into the Wisconsin wilderness in an attempt to find a passage-way to the Pacific. Once here the rich fur trade attracted international attention until the fur traders and the American commercial conquest for beaver and other plentiful furs.

"Wisconsin furs were richer than gold," stated Mr. Doudna. "This aroused the interest of the British." Soon after the first white discoverers of the fur trade, the brave missionaries started coming to Wisconsin, the most notable of which were Father Marquette, Radcliff and Greenlief were pushing the British claims to Wisconsin—the land of rich soil, timber and furs.

Mostly volunteers, a record no other state equalled considering population. One out of eight men were killed and Wisconsin regiments in the Iron Brigade were brilliant in action.

Following the Civil war the industries changed from wheat and lumber to manufacturing and dairying, and the state is now a leader in both activities. Among the Wisconsin inventions mentioned were the typewriter, thermostat, improved fire-arms, steam engines, harvest implements, the steel rolling process for grinding wheat and the Babcock milk testing machine.

Liberal contributions have been made to art and literature. Speaking of the books by Zena Gale, Portage, Mr. Doudna remarked, "Zena Gale as a historian is an excellent novelist." He also bitterly attacked "Main Street" for falsely portraying American life in a "sewer-gutter manner."

"When we complain about present time, I think we should study back to what the pioneer endured. His story silences any serious protest about present conditions."

"Wisconsin Ever-More" written by a Badger school teacher for the prize offered for the best Wisconsin song was sung after the address.

Dr. W. T. Clark was named as leader for science night in March. P. O. Holt presided during the meeting Tuesday.

The British claims soon submerged those of France.

The speaker told of the exploits of Charles de Langlade, claiming him to be one of the most picturesque characters in American history.

Langlade led the Indians against the British and contributed toward the defeat of Braddock, and fought in 32 battles, regretting at his death he could not make it a hundred.

One Is Discovered.

It was in 1825 when the lead mines were discovered in the southwestern section of the state, leading to a heavy immigration of people to Wisconsin.

The Indian was brought troops into Wisconsin and in turn disclosed the rich farming land, establishing the state as one of the leading agricultural sections in the growing of grains.

Timber contributed its share to the development.

"Men were greedy for land and ore, resulting in the trouble with the Indians," it was stated. "History shows that the Indian was not always the one guilty of treachery and lust. The Indian was defeated population northward into Wisconsin."

After becoming a territory, the first constitution of the state was rejected and then a second one approved enabling the territory to become the 30th state, May 23, 1848, off-setting the entrance of Texas, a slave state.

Great War Record.

"Without reason, Wisconsin's patriotism is often questioned," declared Mr. Doudna. "In the Civil war Wisconsin furnished 80,000 soldiers."

$50,000 INCREASE IN INCOME TAXES

Corporations' Total Is More Than Doubled in Janesville.

Income taxes and sur-taxes for the year 1923 in Janesville, assessed on the basis of last years returns, amount to $122,737.33, or more than $50,000 larger than the 1922 figure according to the certification of this years assessments to City Clerk E. J. Sartell from the county clerk. The tax on corporations is more than doubled, while that on individuals is increased approximately $3,000.

In 1923, the income tax for individuals amounts to $47,252.04. Last year it was $42,648, or an increase of approximately $4,600, this year.

The corporations' 1923 income tax figure is given as $51,485.29, compared to only $20,436.32 last year. This is an increase of close to $31,000.

In 1923, the sur-tax on individuals for soldiers' educational bonus is $4,922.71, and for teachers' retirement fund, $4,137.56. In 1922, the figures respectively on individuals were $2,753.76 and $2,628.49, a total increase of approximately $3,200 for this year.

In 1923, the same sur-taxes on corporations are $2,425.55 and $2,757.81. Last year the figures were $1,922.70 and $2,813.63, or a total increase this year of approximately $9,000.

The grand total of Janesville income and sur-taxes in 1923 is $122,737.33, compared to $73,478.36 last year. It is explained that these figures are slightly misleading in that the personal property tax offset means that only a percentage of this total is actually collected.

Case of Beloit Guardsmen Put Up to Commission

(By Associated Press)

Madison—Under an agreement reached between the attorney general's department and the Wisconsin national guardsmen, the Wisconsin national guardsmen will be allowed by the industrial commission without contest on the part of the attorney general. It was learned today. It also has been agreed that future claims of guardsmen under the compensation act will be permitted until a test of the question of liability of the state is completed.

The legal department today filed an answer in Judge E. J. Stevens' circuit court, here asking that the test suit, brought in the name of Clifford Johnson of Beloit, be remanded to the industrial commission for further hearing. The state desires to include in the petition a number of questions which will definitely settle the question of state liability, it is said.

The Johnson case will then be carried back to the circuit court to settle the question of whether national guardsmen are employees of the state or federal government.

The claims which are pending among guardsmen have been upheld to await a test decision. However, it was decided that those not involved in the suit would be allowed. The claims resulted from injuries to guardsmen while in encampments.

Warrants such discontinuance of permit.

The application blank, upon the reverse of which are to be printed above rules, will provide space for application of less than twenty-five (25) persons. When the attendance falls below twenty-five (25) and fifteen (15) respectively, the regular charge will be made in accordance with rules 6 and 7.

(d) An additional charge may be made by the school for use of scenery, piano, stereopticon, moving picture machine, electric light and other property in charge of the school. Arrangements for use of this property and charge therefor must be made with the principal.

(e) When rental is charged, payment shall be made before one o'clock on the day of meeting. Buildings will not be opened except upon presentation of a receipt issued by the clerk of the board of education.

(f) School Use. No part of any school building or ground shall be used on Sunday except in special cases and under such terms and conditions as may be approved by the superintendent of schools.

(g) School Use. No part of any school building or ground shall be used Saturday or during vacation periods except when approved by the superintendent.

(h) Use of Gymnasium. (a) Except for regular school purposes, use of gymnasium is permitted only when the group is in charge of a suitable person, preferably an employee of the school, and when the group is at least 21 years of age, and shall have had suitable training and experience in handling gymnasium work according to the requirements of the department of physical education. If any group which is granted the use of a portion of the building employs an instructor to conduct the work of the group, an amount equal to the portion of the building shall be paid to the board of education as rental for the use of the building. No general school athletic supplies shall not be permitted under the application granting use of gymnasium.

(c) No person or group of persons shall be allowed to enter or use a public school, gymnasium or swimming pool for athletic purposes excepting under the regulations of the school authorities and when accompanied each time by a teacher or instructor.

THE JOCKEY CLUB, controlling most of the high class racing of the United States, has decided that news photographs must be taken from a distance and that no pictures of close finishes. That's a fine way to keep public confidence. In other words, the picture is not the Zev-In Memoriam race, which contradicted the decision of the judges and showed that in Memoriam and not Zev-In, have carried the race. In a few words, the jockey club does not want to have the decision of its judges disputed. It is a well known fact that the jockey club is not so fast as the camera and particularly the moving picture machine. This course of the jockey club will be all right if a "real horse" is declared in every race like that of the Zev-In Memoriam race, but it will not be where a decision on a close race is given. Nevertheless, the newspaper photographers get those pictures as much in the future as in the past. They'll find a way.

WHEN THE BASEBALL managers and promoters interested in home talent baseball gathered at Watertown, Wednesday, for the purpose of the national playground association and several college officials on hand. This movement is one of vital importance not only to the state of Wisconsin, but to other parts of the country as well, and these "outsiders" were called in by "Mike" Dwyer, president of the national playground association and chairman of the state, to assist in formation of a state organization. Dwyer is going at this thing in a big way. Something like $10,000 should come out of it that will start a new era in small town baseball that will benefit spectators, players and communities. Dwyer gave it time to be worked out. It will not be a one, two or three year problem. It may take five years to work satisfactorily.

WE HAVE a new championship within our midst—the title for pitching indoor horseshoes in southern Wisconsin. The title, now claimed by Evansville, will be in the balance when the heaviest of "Dobbs" O'Connell comes here to play the Janesville club at the Wisconsin River street Wednesday night. There is a big field for the horse shoe game, both winter and summer, and the boys have started something that should interest them intensely. Horse shoes is no simple game as some think. It is not a cinch to surround a peg with curved pieces of steel, and at one end and make that shoe remain on without flying off. It requires close study and a good eye. It is a game that is popular to bowlers and requires the accuracy of billiards. Drop in at the rink Wednesday night and learn for yourself.

Some of the dust from that all-star bowling team got in the writer's eye the other day when he created the vast sin of leaving a good bowler by error. Trying to do better this week.

Brodhead Beats R.F.B.-Majors Meet With Landis

STIRRING RALLY IN LAST PERIOD DEFEATS LOCALS

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Brodhead—With a sensational rally in the last quarter that sent the crowd frantically dizzy, the Brodhead American legion defeated the R. F. B. basketball team of Janesville here Tuesday night, 27 to 15. It was a tough game to lose and a good game to win, but the crowd close that the referee had a stiff proposition to handle the battle on the small floor.

Only one basket was made in the first quarter, that by Miller, the score being a 3-3 tie. The guarding was tight, Kober and Sheridan playing close for Janesville and Newman and Johnson covering for Brodhead. In the second quarter, it looked as if the Pinks were off on their way when Connell dropped a long one which was followed by a free throw and Hager came through with three field goals to shoot the score to 11-3. Close to the end of the half, the Brodhead boys came through with two one shots and the count was 11-7.

Score Is Tied—Brodhead came upon the floor in the third quarter with a strong determination and with baskets by McBride and Johnson, the score was tied at 11-11. Several free throws were made by Brodhead and the lead went only to have McBride knot the tally. While the crowd was in an uproar, Hager put the R. F. B. ahead, only to see Newman tie it up at the quarter, 15-15.

The game turned into a rough and tumble affair in the fourth quarter, both teams musing with a ball. Brodhead opened with a basket, running up three baskets straight for a 21-15 lead. The crowd was in an uproar. Hager dropped two through for Brodhead. Hager counted from the field for Janesville, but Brodhead retaliated with two for a positive victory.

Johnson and McBride starred for the home team. Hager made 23 of Janesville's 18 points. Sheridan showed up well at guard for the R. F. B., working up under the basket.

Return Game Dec. 21—Friday, Dec. 21, the teams will clash again at Brodhead. The Pinks will be behind the line, backing it strenuously.

Fort Atkinson—In a hard-fought and closely contested game, Troop F, 10th Cavalry, of this city, trimmed the Fort Legion team at the turn of the year, 16 to 14, Tuesday. Troop F played a game that proclaimed them victors almost from the start, although the score doesn't designate the author of the victory. At first seemed to be against them. All of the team started playing an excellent game. Kramer played a good guarding game. Michaels most of the action for the Legion. The Legion team showed up especially good for the first game. Friday night Troop F plays Palmyra City team at Troop F's armory. The Troop is desirous of getting games with any good amateur teams. Write William Geldard, Fort Atkinson, Summary:

Crandall's Milton Team at Marquette

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Milton—The Milton college basketball team opens its official 1923-24 season Wednesday night by playing Marquette university at Milwaukee. Coach George Crandall's team, while not going so good for early in the season, will face an outfit that showed weak in team work against Milwaukee normal Monday night. However, the Hilltoppers are strong individually. Last year, Milton gave Marquette a terrific fight in opening the season and Milton seems stronger now than at this time last year.

BRINGING UP FATHER

UNCLE SAM IS LOOKING OVER HIS BOYS FOR OLYMPIC MATERIAL; PROSPECTS BRIGHT

American athletic leaders are concerned these days, and rightly so, with the prospects of the Americans winning the Olympic games next year in Paris.

It will be recalled that while the United States colors fluttered at the top of the pole three years ago in Antwerp, America's usually overwhelming supremacy was threatened by the Finnish runners and athletes of one or two other European countries.

However, America's prospects seem brighter for the games next summer. In the three years that have elapsed, new stars have been developed who should strengthen the weak parts of the team.

Four years ago Murchison and Paddock were the main stars and principal hopes. Now Leoney, Lovejoy, Hussey and one or two others loom up as good material in the dashes.

Reports from some circles say that Paddock will not compete, partly because of his run-in with the Amateur athletic union and partly because he has just suffered an injury to his ankle.

The A. A. U. can't afford to keep him out because of new rule differences and Paddock ought to heed the call and give his best again.

Jole Ray is one of the veteran Olympic performers who ought to be as good this time as he was three years ago. When he is himself, he is king at the 1,500-meter distance, and to follow his pace, the U. S. has Watson, Baker and either Goodwin or Kirby for his running mates. Goodwin, New York A. C. boy, has been interesting track experts with his rapid development.

Bob Legendre should be the star of the broad jump. This brilliant colt can approach the record marks with consistent regularity. Hubbard of Michigan and Geist, eastern jumper, should give the U. S. two other good men. Landon and Osborne can make six feet, four inches in the high jump.

As long as "Old Man" McGrath and the veteran Pat McDonald can answer "present" to the Olympic roll call the weight events are safe. They will have some real competition again, however, as the Finnish heavy, Pertola, will carry his country's colors.

Midwest star of Yale's football eleven, the initial contest was surprising. A new role for him is in form when the discus event is called. Houser and Ashton are two other good emulators of the Greek stars.

France may surprise the rest of the world in the coming Olympiad. Spurred on by her pride, France hopes to develop a squad of athletes that will do her justice in the coming meet. To this end the athletic coaches and experts have formed a committee to take the lead in producing "super athletes" who can hold their own against the world-wide competition.

Wisconsin Cagers Surprise Followers by Heavy Scoring

Madison — Getting off to a flying start with a decisive victory over Milbiken college last Saturday, Coach Walter Meenwell's Badger basketball team are putting on the finishing touches for the second encounter, against DePaul here Friday night.

The showing of the Badgers in their initial contest was surprising. Assurance that the spirit of peace prevailed among the major leagues was given when the club owners of the National league adopted resolutions, extending to Commissioner Landis "the confidence of our hearty and loyal support, and our appreciation for his distinguished services as well as his unequalled approval of his official action."

While joint action was not taken by the American league clubs, reports that the commissioner would be entertained at Wednesday's session were quickly dispelled as soon as the National league stand became known. Rumors had been affixed that President Bradley of the National league and President Dan Johnson, of the American league, might express dissatisfaction for failure to consult them in arranging the 1924 world series.

Seventeen proposed amendments to baseball rules are to be acted upon by the joint session of the two major leagues Wednesday. Other matters of importance also came before the meeting, some of which affected the powers of the commissioner.

Evers to Coach Sox
A few days were consumed during the sessions of major and minor leagues late Tuesday with the signing of Johnny Evers as coach of the White Sox for next season and a deal involving Carl Mayer, right hand pitcher of the Yankees to Cincinnati, the most important. The price for Mayer was said to be more than $10,000.

Baseball officials learned of the return of Evers as assistant to Frank Chance for the White Sox as a surprise. It was believed that he had retired from the game. The Ed Walsh, who assisted Gleason as coach last year will likewise be retained, Chance said.

Majors Session Is Quiet; Evers Coach of White Sox

Chicago — The National and American baseball leagues met for their joint session with Commissioner K. M. Landis, Wednesday, secretly confident their session would be amiable, with none of the clashes that had at first been predicted.

Assurances that the spirit of peace prevailed among the major leagues was given when the club owners of the National league adopted resolutions, extending to Commissioner Landis "the confidence of our hearty and loyal support, and our appreciation for his distinguished services as well as his unequalled approval of his official action."

Three Qualities Your Trucks Need

We want to show you the Firestone Heavy Duty Cushion because it has the three features you need—cushion, traction and mileage.

We know it's the greatest Firestone Truck tire ever developed—and that's saying a lot.

It's a big, rugged tire with extra bulk of live, springy rubber in a shape that increases its cushion and gives a better road-grip.

The deep traction groove down the center has strong-gripping shoulders. You can see how they take hold of the road. Power is used and not wasted.

The Firestone Heavy Duty Cushion is uniformly cured all the way through. That's why the wear is so slow and even. There is no chipping, wiping or shelling and the tire holds to its hard base until the last mile of wear.

Ask any of our customers who are using these tires—they'll tell you about real mileage, and they'll say that this is the ultimate

TO PROVIDE FOR 410 IN CAFETERIA

School Board Will Avoid Extravagance in Buying Equipment.

Specifications were drawn with the thought of getting a price on equipment that is substantial but not extravagant. Supt. P. O. Holt said in regard to the purchase of equipment for the new high school cafeteria, the securing of bids for which was authorized at the meeting of the school board Monday night.

The specifications have been so drawn that prices will be secured on different types of equipment. The counters to be installed will be for the purpose of serving those who bring their lunches to school and buy a hot dish as a supplement, and those who buy all of their meals in the cafeteria.

The counters will be built of such material as seems advisable on the basis of cost. It is announced, and probably will be of glass or steel.

Complete Kitchen Equipment
Blue-prints, as now laid out, call for tables and chairs to seat 410 persons. This can be increased at any future time. The tables specified will have either a glass or oak top, and the chairs will be of the light bent wood type.

The kitchen, with complete equipment, has been laid out, including a bakery section, cook section, vegetable section and clean and dirty dish section. Unit prices will be secured on all of the equipment specified for the kitchen, so that elimination on the basis of prices may take place.

The specifications also provide for china, glassware and silverware sufficient to supply 410 persons.

Capacity is 560.
The bids are so arranged that cafeteria concerns are asked to bid on the entire equipment or to submit bids on chairs and tables alone, on the counters and kitchen equipment alone, or on the china, glassware and silverware.

Alternates are called for which give any concern desiring to bid opportunity to submit estimates on any type of material which it feels will fit the situation.

It will be possible to seat 500 in the cafeteria, but 410 is the arrangement now suggested, because that is the number now eating during the lunch hour.

RACINE EVANGELIST FORMER BALL PLAYER, IS PREACHING HERE

The Rev. J. S. Ganzel, Racine, a former baseball player, who is now holding meetings every night at Spring Brook chapel, will preach his strongest message Thursday night, "What Is Your Batting Average?"

Twelve years ago he left professional baseball to preach, and to use his words, is now "hitting the ball for Jesus." He is at present superintendent of a rescue mission at Racine, where he has been for nearly seven years. Last winter he was fed and housed 2,600 men who had no place to stay.

No law but love, no creed but Christ, is his gospel. He believes that the gospel, now, has the same power it had two thousand years ago and that the Bible does not change with the times.

Mr. Ganzel is one of the "old fashioned" gospel preachers. Raymond Cooley and C. H. Howard are aiding him and are endeavoring to start a Sunday school and gospel work. They are also in charge of the song service.

Old Detroit Star First Baseman Is Speaker Here

Look back in the old record books of baseball and the family name of Ganzel is frequently mentioned. Not once, but five times, because that many Ganzel brothers were famous in the national pastime.
One of them, J. S. Ganzel, of Richmond, now places the word "New" before his name. He is holding meetings this week at Spring Brook chapel, McKee Boulevard and East-avenue, at 7:30 p. m., every day.
This Ganzel quintet was some-gang. The evangelist who is here played professional ball 18 years with Minneapolis, Kansas City, Detroit, of the old American league. New Castle, Pa., and Youngstown, Ohio.
He covered first base. He has managed several lesser teams and won several championships. He still believes in baseball and has four sons playing the game with good prospects of going up.
Among the other Ganzels was Charles who caught for Boston in the American league 10 years and then went to Detroit where he caught for that team when it won the world's championship. Another brother, John, played with the New York Americans and managed Cincinnati, then going to Rochester of the eastern league where he won three pennants. John then went to Kansas City and won there a pennant, the only one they ever had. Brothers Fred and George were also in the big tent.

CHEVROLET WILL TAKE VACATION

Plants in Spring Brook Close Dec. 22 to Reopen Jan. 2.

With full December production of 5,000 automobiles assured by the close of next week, the Chevrolet Motor company and Fisher Body company plants will shut down Dec. 22 and take a Christmas vacation, not to resume until Jan. 2. This will allow many of the employees an opportunity to spend Christmas and New Year's with relatives out of town.

Automobiles have been turned out at a fast rate this far this month with 250 or more each day. A new record for the Janesville plant was set last week when 1,618 cars were run off the end of the final assembly line. A new high record for a single day was made on Dec. 4 when 309 cars were rolled out, the first time the 300 mark had ever been passed.

7,400 Cars in January. Upon the return to work Jan. 2, the plant will turn towards the production of 7,400 cars in January, which is the schedule fixed sometime ago. To fill this order, it will require the local plant to turn out better than 300 cars daily.

Winter has brought a full in construction activities at the plant. The crew of Sweets Bros. Rockford, is still at work installing the $100,000 sprinkler system. The water tower which rises 80 feet in height is completely erected, and connected with part of the pipe system which has been installed in the plant. The contract calls for completion by the end of the year, but this may not be possible as there is a large amount of work yet to do.

Loading Dock Covered. The covering of the loading dock at the south side of the building is almost completed. A steel frame-work with a covering of composition and glass has been put up to make it possible to load cars during the winter for shipment. A brick shed for machine work used in loading the cars has been constructed at one end of the dock.

As the year draws to a close, it finds 622 persons employed in the Chevrolet plant, with a force of 142 employed in the other departments. A force of more than 1,000 persons draw their wages through the Chevrolet Motor company of Wisconsin which is the Janesville division, as there is the force in the Chicago zone, and at Minneapolis and Des Moines. At these other western cities, the employees are engaged in parts and service, selling and accounting.

Forty-three women are engaged in the sewing department here.

MAY RUN TOURIST BUSES THROUGH HERE

Contemplating the operation of a line between Chicago and Madison by way of Janesville and Beloit, officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee and North Shore company were through here Monday enroute to Madison. Weekly tours through Wisconsin are planned, concentrating tourists at Chicago.

Use Big Samson Warehouse for Storage of Cars

As an accommodation to the Chevrolet dealers, part of the warehouse of the Samson Tractor company plant on South Franklin and River streets, will be used this winter for storage of Chevrolet automobiles. There is available space for storage of 25 cars and contracts have been drawn for storage of 160 for one concern.

Only one floor is now available, the other space will be provided during the coming months as shipments of implements are made. A small force is working in the foundry turning out an average of six tons of gray iron daily which is being used in manufacturing additional harrows, cultivators, planters to supply part of the continued demand for Samson products.

About a carload of implements is being shipped daily.

OIL STATION WORKER OUT AFTER SIXTEEN MONTHS IN HOSPITAL

Leslie Smith, an employee of the Standard Oil company who had a leg broken in August at the South Main street filling station when a car crushed him against the pump, was discharged from Mercy hospital Monday afternoon and went to his home in Oregon. He will resume his duties with the oil company later. He has been in the hospital 16 weeks.

Louise Taylor, who was admitted Saturday to the children's department of the hospital, went to her home Monday.

Miss Della Feuerhelm, Lake Park, Ia., was re-admitted for treatment. Mrs. Dick Pease, Edgerton, was admitted.

A box social and program will be held at Dillmebeck School, Harmony District 2, Friday night, December 14. Everyone invited. Teacher, Nellie Gillespie. —Advertisement.

All Departments of Y.M.C.A. Show Great Activity

November was one of the busiest months this year, according to the reports of various departments of the Y. M. C. A. given before the board of directors at its meeting this week.

In the boys' department it was reported that 95 members had been secured during the campaign the first part of the period, and the drive was closed with a booster banquet at which 152 were present. Among other activities were the sending of seven delegates to the Older Boys' conference.

The popularity of the new box ball equipment was told of, and it was stated that 3,000 games had been played since installation. Swimming instruction at the high school, given by A. C. Preston and John Fugh, has proved successful, and 11 hours a week are being devoted to it.

A fair start has been made in the World Outlook program, and the goal set at 200 members. The money contributed in the work must be earned by the boys, and with this end in view, a number of Christmas tree stands have been secured and will be sold by the boys.

Cadet and Junior club work, under the direction of the boys' work secretary, John Fugh, is popular among the younger boys, and is already so large, that it probably will be necessary to divide the organization. The groups are now studying the life of Christ.

Friday night movies are being shown in the boys' department weekly, and at the last performance drew a crowd of 119. The same films are shown to senior members on Saturday nights.

There are now three large classes receiving regular physical instruction from A. B. Bergman, physical director, according to the report from his department, and the "Y" swimming pool is used daily. It is reported there are sometimes as many as 45 in the water at once. Special emphasis is placed on the more careful supervision given than formerly.

One of the big uses of the gym during November was the number using it to train for the turkey run, which took place on Nov. 25. The newest organization is a leaders' corps, volunteers who will assist the physical director as needed. The industrial league season was reported ready to open, and the first game is set for Dec. 13. One of the most valuable services given to members is the physical examinations being conducted, in which a number of doctors of the city are furnishing their services.

Receipts for the month of November were reported at $2,704, including proceeds for membership, dormitory and incidentals, and the disbursements at $3,231.55. The balance on Dec. 1 was $723, a dollar less than on Nov. 1.

Dormitories were filled during the entire month, and receipts from rental amounted to $291, which is $60 over the budget requisite. This condition was also true in October, Cafeteria receipts were unusually large.

While it is not the policy of the Association to do welfare work, work for several men was found in the city, and other services were given to strangers.
